FIFA, FIFA 20 and FIFA 19 are the best-selling football games in the world. FIFA is played by people of all ages, genders and backgrounds and everyone loves a great game of FIFA. Our latest game, FIFA 22, is an immersive simulation of the beautiful game and is the culmination of over two years of game development. This is what we did differently to improve FIFA and give our players the clearest path to ultimate goal-scoring glory. Looking at the innovation that has been introduced in FIFA 19 and FIFA 20, one thing that is clear is that we are all about elevating the game beyond last season's efforts. For example, in FIFA 20, we introduced the All-Star Squad into the game, which saw the returning four-time Ballon d'Or winner Cristiano Ronaldo come on board to help player develop in your game. You also managed to score a goal when a team made 25 shots in a match! But it's not all about the numbers. Our three main features - Weakened AI, Official Match Day Experience and New Commentary - are a key part of FIFA's gameplay. What makes FIFA unique? When you play FIFA, you see and hear how the game is played in real life. When Ronaldo scores, he's always looking to score, as are your team-mates. When you defend, defenders do exactly what they would do in an actual match. The FIFA Team is on a mission to make football the most popular sport in the world, and we have that goal in our minds as we work on every single detail of gameplay. We studied what makes football exciting to people around the world, how to make it fun to play as a team, and how to add an emotional authenticity to our gameplay. When we discuss our goals for FIFA, we are conscious that we should deliver new experiences, enrich existing experiences and empower our players to work together to succeed. We want you to have the most enjoyable game experience ever, and our gameplay achievements are integral to that. We've talked a lot about them over the last few years - the development of Player Impact Engine, the 40 Million Skill Points target and the 200 million minutes played. We also knew that our fans would want to have more of what made them love FIFA and that is why we made the All-Star Squad and the weekly news bc9d6d6daa
